KEEP SAFE - RISK DETAILS:

People should take responsibility for their own safety and that of others with them. You should be aware of potential site specific hazards and these are listed below site maps. Possible hazardous characteristics of survey sites are:

- Limited and difficult access to sites;
- Limited lighting;
- Bank slopes and inclines;
- Slippery or loose surface underfoot;
- Thick vegetation;
- Overhanging vegetation at the waters edge and survey areas;
- Overhanging branches;
- Hidden holes, burrows, or cavities in banks;
- Snakes, ticks, spiders and biting insects;
- Proximity to traffic (some sites only)
